

Now Hiring Primary Care Osteopathic Physicians

Emmitsburg Osteopathic Primary Care Center, Inc. is a debt free, small non-profit teaching medical practice now hiring primary care osteopathic physicians. EOPCC was established in 1999 and serves the greater Emmitsburg, MD area.

Because EOPCC is a non-profit teaching medical practice, those who carry student loans will be able to apply for loan forgiveness if they serve here for 10 years.

EOPCC seeks to hire up to two physicians. We hope that those whom we hire will eventually take over the practice extending our service to the underinsured well into the future. It is important that these physicians make their home in Emmitsburg proper and not commute from a remote location.

The students whom we teach are third and fourth year Osteopathic Medical School students from WVSOM along with nurse practitioner students from four nurse practitioner schools: the University of Maryland, Simmons College, Boston, Chamberlain University of Downer's Grove, IL, and the University of Cincinnati.

Meritus Osteopathic Medical School, Hagerstown, MD is open to sending us osteopathic students if the teaching physician is board certified.

Thanks to a most generous donor, EOPCC has startup funds to support comfortable 1st year salary. After this, productivity would guide take home pay for the physicians. It is important that we have dedicated physicians who are ready to work together, alternate being on call, and be able to work as a team.
